The Flower Chronicles

Buds & Blooms

Employees from Phillips Academy in Andover

We held two Buds & Blooms bouquet creation parties recently. The first took place in historic McKeen Hall at Phillips Academy in Andover MA. Ten employees from the Communications Department enjoyed creating 24 bouquets that were delivered to Benchmark Senior Living at Billerica Crossing.

The second party for mothers, daughters, grandmothers, and great-grandmothers was held at Board Member Courtney L'Hussier's home. Fifteen attendees came together to have fun with flowers. They created 32 bouquets that delighted residents at Livecare Center of Merrimack Valley.

These events help spread the word about our organization, attract new volunteers, and raise money to help defray costs of bouquet making supplies.

Special Visit

Thank you to Lisa Sandeen, from the Dana Home Foundation, for visiting our workshop in August. Power of Flowers Project has been the recipient of several grants from the Dana Home Foundation, which is dedicated to providing for the care, comfort and well-being of senior citizens.

Lisa had the opportunity to see our workshop in action and presented us with a generous donation. After receiving a tour of our workshop, she was invited to stay and make a bouquet with the assistance of volunteer Tricia Smith!
